The Pledge of Allegiance

October 04, 2018 Program:

Andrea Packer

By Rich Shimko

The List Gallery is a little gem of an art gallery located in the Lang Performing Arts Center on the Swarthmore College campus. Andrea Packer has been the gallery's only director since it opened in 1995. The gallery has four exhibits per year. They include works by the Swarthmore students but also works by outside artists such as the current show on the Quilts of Gee's Bend, Alabama. Andrea said poor blacks in Gee's Bend have been making extraordinary quilts since the 1930's. During the Depression, they made the quilts to keep warm but eventually they sold the quilts to make money.

Four Way Test:
Of the things we think, say and do:

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all Concerned?

September 27, 2018 Program: Andrea Packer

The focus of the List Gallery's exhibit is the quilts of Mary Lee Bendolph, who is now in her 80's. Ms. Bendolph learned to make quilts from her mother and she has passed this skill to her daughter. Works of all three generations are included in the exhibit. Andrea told how pleased she was that Ms. Bendolph's entire family came to Swarthmore for the opening of the exhibit. Although Andrea showed photographs of the quilts, she said the photos were poor likenesses so we will want to go to List Gallery to view the quilts in full color. The exhibit is at the Gallery until October 28.
